

A Legacy of Innovation

Rehbein Environmental Solutions strives to promote and provide green solutions for a changing world.

Vision

Our Vision is to make the world cleaner, greener, and more sustainable, one project at a time.

Our Company

Glenn Rehbein

In 1956, Glenn Rehbein started Lino Sod Company with little more than a sod cutter, a small truck, and a commitment to quality turf. Today, Glenn Rehbein Companies is a highly diversified group of companies encompassing turf farming, sports field and golf course design and construction, mass excavation, real estate development, environmental remediation, engineering, and utilities.

Rehbein Environmental Solutions

Rehbein Environmental Solutions seeks to expand upon the resources and network Glenn and his family built to meet the demands of an ever-changing world. Leveraging our fifty years of experience in traditional property development methods with the best of today's environmental technologies, we are using a total solutions approach to reduce the impact of construction on the environment.

Rehbein Environmental Solutions International

In 2006, we expanded our operations to the Middle East, with the intent of assisting the governmental and business leaders there in maintaining the beauty of the region through strategic, green solutions.

Our Team

Our team comprises some of the leading and most highly respected professionals in the business. Our group of designers, engineers, surveyors, and project managers bring a wealth of expertise and passion into every new project. # Rehbein Cornerstones

Live Green. Rehbein Environmental Solutions is driven by a desire to protect our environment. This attitude is consistent in how we address our clients' needs, how we maintain our operations, and in how we live our daily lives.

Money is Green Too. Rehbein employees understand the importance of fiscal responsibility and manage with a green bottom line perspective.

Stewardship. We understand that giving back is more than a part of business; it's a way of life.

Balance. We are a family company with family values. We understand that the power of the group exceeds the power of one. We become more productive as our team members assist one another to live healthy balanced lives.

Quality is Key. Rehbein team members focus on providing exceptional quality in all that they do – in the office, in the lab, and in the field.

Innovation is Everywhere. Creativity and curiosity are a way of life and are supported by all staff in all departments. Rehbein employees see the world in a new way, with “green” eyes.

Share Ideas. The most brilliant idea is useless if it's kept secret. Rehbein employees share ideas.

NOW. Product leaders are vigilant and action-oriented. We understand the importance of staying one step ahead. When Rehbein employees see an opportunity or a need anywhere, they act NOW.

The Place for Impact is in the customers' perceptions. Rehbein employees develop and manage all relationships with professionalism and kindness.

Empower. Rehbein employees are given the tools and liberty to move an idea, task, or project forward.

Have Fun. Consistent with their culture of innovation, if Rehbein employees are not having fun, they make some.
